

Dear Students,

My name is Sertug Basar and I am your class coordinator at University College of Northern Denmark (UCN).

Welcome to UCN and Automation Engineering program!

I am counting on you to make the best of your time here at UCN. Your college experience will be what you make out of it. The sky is the limit, yet we all need to work hard to get there.

My colleagues and myself will always be here to support you throughout your time in Automation Engineering program. Keep calm, you are in good hands 😊

I highly encourage you to be and remain proactive, get involved in both study-related and social arrangements that are available to you; and when something is needed, yet not offered, take the initiative to make sure it is set up.

Supporting you is one of my central missions. My colleagues and myself are here to guide you as you become the best version of yourself.

Should you have any questions or need any help related to your studies, you are more than welcome to contact me at: mesb@ucn.dk

I look very much forward to meeting you in person and walking the path to success together with you.

Mehmet Sertug Basar
